Portrait of Pres. Lamkin Exhibited

Work of Noted Artist Is Permanently Hung in Social Science Hall.

President Lamkin's portrait has been hung permanently in the Social Hall of the College. It was hung Friday afternoon, May 20, under the direction of Miss Olive DeLuca, chairman of the Fine and Industrial Arts Department of the College. The portrait represents the president looking up from the study of a paper in a characteristic pose. The figure is silhouetted against a rich red background. It is a dignified, well-painted portrait, showing excellent technique in the handling of the artist's medium, and has roused much favorable comment in the places where it has been exhibited. It comes to the College direct from an exhibit now in progress in Excelsior Springs, and during the past year has been shown in Denver, in St. Louis, in Kansas City and in a number of other places by the Yunt Art Gallery of Kansas City. The portrait, the gift of the classes of 1931 and 1932 who are to be commended for their choice, was presented at the Class Day exercises a year ago.

Artist Studied Abroad.
The artist, William Orth, of Kansas City, received his training abroad in the ateliers of Munich and of Paris. He has painted many of the leading men and women in this section and in the southwest. About a year ago he came in person to Maryville and arranged a studio in the College building where Mr. Lamkin posed for him. Mr. Orth remarked a number of times during the "sittings" on his interest in painting the president.

The College is most fortunate in having this permanent record of its distinguished leader.

The Social Hall has in addition to the portrait of the president eight original works of art—six oil paintings and two etchings. "The Oils are by well known artists. Oscar Berninghaus, Jr., of the Taos Colony has a snow scene; Parker of Jefferson City, has a view of the Capital of Missouri in the early spring; Percival DeLuca, the father of Miss DeLuca, is represented by a picture of St. John's Gateway of Canterbury Cathedral; Bigler, Sanden of Bethany, Kan., has one of his well-known impressionistic studies of the mountains; Della Miller's "Unconquered," typifies the life of the painter himself. "Boats at Gloucester" is by Kathryn Cherry, an artist of international reputation, who died during the past winter.

An Interesting Collection.
The collection is of high merit, all the work of American painters, and one of which the college may well be proud. The graduating classes of the College have made this institution remarkable in the state through the gift of these pictures, and have laid the foundation of a fine future collection.

Miss Westfall Has Made Remarkable Attendance Record

Last week the Northwest Missourian carried the story of the excellent school record of Miss Angeline New, recently graduated from the Gaynor high school. During the last eight years of her school work Miss New was not tardy or absent.

The best record which has been received at the office of the Northwest Missourian to date, is that of Miss Grace W. Westfall, who will be graduated from the College this week.

Miss Westfall has not been absent or tardy for twelve years. This includes her four years of college, four years of high school, and her last four years in the grades. "Measles, measles and the flu" played havoc with my record for the first four years of my school career," Miss Westfall says. She also admits that she missed a few classes in high school when she was sent to Columbia to represent the Maryville high school in the state contest in history, in which she won a medal.

Announce Approaching Marriage.
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. England of Maryville, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy England, to Mr. Ronald Weston Adams, which will take place on Monday, June the sixth at four o'clock at the First Baptist church at New Centre, Mass. Miss Nell Hudson, Registrar of the College, has received an invitation to attend the wedding.

A. H. Cooper, chairman of the Extension Department of the College, was the chief speaker at the College Sunday school class at the M. E. church South last Sunday.

In the absence of the pastor of the First M. E. church in Maryville, last Sunday, Dr. Harry G. Dildine, of the faculty of the Social Science Department of the College, delivered the morning and evening sermons.

W. H. McDonald Addresses College High Graduates

In addressing the College High School graduates at their commencement exercises at the College last Wednesday, W. H. McDonald, superintendent of schools at Trenton and a graduate of the College, made the following statements and admonitions:

Those who are educated have a responsibility to society; optimism is a most valuable characteristic for one to have; because one man in a certain business or profession fails to do his duty, don't believe that all men in that business or profession are failing to do the right thing; have faith in men; see something that should be done for humanity and do it if you would have a full measure of success; see the needs of your own community and start to work there; people must get right within themselves, laws will not correct depression, crime waves, etc.; believe in yourself; and develop a character in harmony with the teachings of Christ.

New Yearbooks Are Distributed Among Students

The new Towers for the years 1931-32 are out, and to most of them has been added a gallon or two of ink by friends of the owners. The books were released by the Tower staff Wednesday morning, May 18. The editor-in-chief, Miss Myrde Qualls, and the business manager, Clarence Woolsey have compiled a very valuable and a very interesting book. This year's Tower is dedicated to the traditions of the school. In the past the Tower has been dedicated usually to some outstanding or administrative personality. The dedication page says the Tower "is dedicated to the fine accomplishments of the past, the high standards of the future, and the splendid ideals for the future that comprise our school traditions." The editors have chosen for the theme of the year book, the Silver Birch, one of the most beautiful features of the campus.

The publication is divided into four books. Book one is entitled The College, book two, activities, book three, Athletics and book four, Features. The book's unique arrangement has caused a great deal of favorable comment. The first book contains two poems, one entitled "The Vendor," by Ruby Parman and the other, "March Day," by Flora Scheffsky. The Feature section contains the pictures of the queens, photographs of the most popular boy and girl, and scholarship awards, as well as personal glimpses of campus celebrities and notorious characters caught in their weaker moments.

The Tower is the result of hard work on the part of the editors and the chief clerk for the work goes to Clarence Woolsey and Maude Qualls for time and work, which they gave unflinchingly. The Tower has met with general approval and acclaim from the student body.

1933 Tower Officers Have Been Elected

Officers for the publication of the 1933 Tower, the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College yearbook, were elected in a meeting of the Sophomore Class held Thursday, May 19.

The Business Manager of the '33 Tower is Mr. William Yates, son of Mrs. V. E. Yates of Bethany, Mo.

The Editor-in-Chief elected by the class is Mr. Albert Kreek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Kreek, of Oregon, Mo.
Those nominated by the class and approved by the committee were Mr. Yates and Mr. Arthur Brewer, of Maryville, for Business Manager and Mr. Kreek and Miss Margaret Maxwell of Cameron for Editor-in-Chief.

Mr. Kreek and Mr. Yates will have the responsibility, shared with a staff of helpers, in getting together material and pictures for the 'Tower of '33' which will be a record of the life around the College during the school year 1932-33.

College Completes Its Twenty-Sixth Year

This week will bring to close the twenty-sixth regular year of school at the College, which was established by the state legislature in 1905 as a Normal Training school. It continued in its growth and service and in 1919 was named the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College and given additional powers and duties. Since 1919 the school has continued to grow and develop until it now ranks with the best teachers colleges in the United States.

As in the past years the College is pausing this week in honor of the students who are completing their college work. Many of those who are finishing their College work this week will be leaving, perhaps never to return. To these, teachers and those in charge of the institution must say "farewell."

Nearly all of the several hundred students who have been enrolled in S. T. C., during this year will not be here for the summer term, but it is expected that there will be several hundred former students who have been teaching in the field, high school graduates, and others to take their places during the summer term which begins June 1 and ends August 10. The summer session will be divided into two half terms, the second half term beginning July 7. To those who will be in school here this summer, the College extends a welcome.

The College high school and elementary school which closed last Friday, May 20, will be opened for the summer school at the Washington school building, Wednesday, June 1.

The Elementary school will be conducted in the mornings only and will run for a period of eight weeks. The high school will run all day and during the entire College summer school session, June 1 to August 10.

The students will be allowed to attend the school free of charge. They will enroll for both schools on Wednesday, June 1, at the Washington school building, under the direction of Dr. J. L. Lawing, superintendent of the Maryville public schools, who will be in charge in the absence of H. R. Dieterich of the College.

The regular College high school and elementary school supervisors will supervise the instruction as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Lucas, former students of the College who have been teaching and who will be teaching next year in the Mercer school system, were at the College last Monday. Mr. Lucas is principal of the high school and Mrs. Lucas teaches the seventh and eighth grades.

STROLLER

Miss Fickle informed Mr. Dieterich that it made no difference whether students were placed in groups X, Y, and Z, or whether they were placed in groups P. D. Q., but the Stroller begs to differ with her. The Stroller knows high school students because he was one once, and it did make a difference to him.

The Stroller has heard a rumor that a couple of boys on the campus have been renamed Frankie Frog and Louie Hop. Would the gentlemen please come forward and identify themselves? Saylor says that his long underwear which he wears in the Shakespearean play, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," has holes in the heels and toes. He also mentions that it was just a trifle difficult for him to get into the genuine leather shirt part of the costume, since it buttoned up the back.

The Stroller has a joke on the Home Economics Department this time. He happened to hear Claire Garten call one of the stores down town and ask them to send out two dozen cake rolls and some bread. She explained to someone nearby that the class was planning to have a luncheon and that the bread was a flop—therefore the order. This isn't always the way things turn out in the Home Ec. Department, however, for the Stroller has happened in on some excellent eats.

New students at the College may have some little difficulty in finding out who people mean when they speak of W. T., the Snake Charmer. The Stroller will explain that the gentleman meant is Mr. W. T. Garrett, chairman of the Biology Department. At this time of the year students in his classes have been known to stand outside Mr. Garrett's class room doors and peer through the glass while he in great glee holds high above his head a big shining snake.

The Stroller didn't get to write in every one of the new Towers this time on account of the depression, but he certainly wishes for each and every one of the owners of the books the finest things in life including prohibition and world disarmament. So long—and hurry back.

Advanced Piano Recital.
Miss Marjorie Barton, of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music presented the following advanced pupils in a piano recital at the College Auditorium, Wednesday evening, May 18 at 8 o'clock: Aetha Besinger, Virginia Mutz, Bernice Pence, William Somerville, Mildred Heck, Irma Loucks, Evelyn Burr, Anna Mae Brown, Helen Gough, Mary Elizabeth Allen, and Donald E. Johnson. Many favorable comments on this recital have been heard.

Baccalaureate Is Conducted Sunday

Rev. Frank Tripp of St. Joseph Delivers Address to 1932 Graduating Class.

The baccalaureate services for the Class of 1932 were held last Sunday afternoon in the College Auditorium at three o'clock.

The speaker was The Reverend Frank Tripp, pastor of the First Baptist church in St. Joseph, who chose the following as his text: "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." The above scripture is the first verse of the twelfth chapter of Hebrews.

Reverend Tripp described life as a continuous struggle and a great race in which the one who is to be successful must have a proper relationship with God and must give the church its proper and important place in his plans.

Stresses Social Development.
In touching on the physical, social, economic and spiritual phases of development in a life, Dr. Tripp mentioned the importance of building up a reserve in physical and mental power.

The attention of the graduates was directed to the importance of social development when the speaker said that this world is a beautiful place in which to live because we live in it and because others live in it with us.

Dr. Tripp said that the world has arrived at the place where it must choose between Christ or chaos. Church people, he said, are the ones who are building the orphanages, homes for crippled children, and doing the things which will mean the advancement of civilization.

Must Have "Will to Win."
One of the first essentials for running the great race of life successfully the speaker maintains is the "will to win." He divided people into three general classes, "The Wills," who accomplish, "The Wonks," who oppose, and "The Can'ts," who fall in every thing.

Dr. Tripp says that man's first duty is not to make fame or fortune, but to make a life.

The service, which for the first time in the history of the College, was held in the afternoon, was as follows:

Processional—"O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand" (Haton).
Invocation, The Reverend William H. Butler, pastor of the First Baptist Church.
Hymn, "Adeste Fideles."
Scripture Reading.
"Gloria."
Prayer and "Sanctus."
Mixed Chorus, "Who So Dwelleth Under the Defense of the Most High," (Martin).
Sermon, The Reverend Frank Tripp. Women's Chorus—"The Lord Is My Shepherd," (Schubert).
Benediction.

The general science class of the College high school had an exhibit consisting of the wild flowers of Nodaway county and of several states, in the exhibit case on second floor of the Administration Building, last Thursday and Friday. The students in the class by correspondence obtained flowers from California, New Mexico, Indiana, Virginia, Oklahoma and North Dakota. Miss Gladys Coper is the teacher of the class.

Addresses Men's Forum
Hubert Garrett addressed the Men's Monday Forum at the noon luncheon last Monday on the subject, "The War Debts."

A picture of Norvel Saylor, president of the Senior Class of the College, appeared with the class presidents of all the teachers colleges in the United States, in the National Educational Journal for this month.

students perhaps there lingers the question as to whether or not they should invest their savings, or even borrow money to attend College.

No doubt there may be specific instances, where, for a seemingly sound investment a person might invest money in something other than additional knowledge, training or skill, but to the thinking individual who will get possession of the facts as to the value of training there should be little if any hesitancy at this time as to what to do, especially if the individual meditates carefully on a life plan.

To the one who is undecided about trying to get more training at this time, perhaps the saying, "He who hesitates is Lost," applies. Life is too short and there are too many things to learn and too many problems to be solved for a person to hesitate in the searching for training and truth.

Tip in Lindbergh Case Is Worthless Police Announce

Meantime Jafie Issues An Appeal to Man Who Took Ransom.

Hopewell, N. J., May 24.—(P)—Today's episodes in the tragic drama of the Lindbergh kidnap - murder mystery were acted out on a broad stage, the actors being scattered through five states.

The audience was still world wide. In Trenton, N. J., Governor A. Harry Moore signed a bill authorizing $25,000 reward for information leading to conviction of the kidnapers. Police said a tip submitted by Boston, Mass., police proved worthless.

Curtis Still in Jail
In Flemington, John H. Curtis, confessed hoaxer in negotiations for return of the baby, remained in jail waiting action of the grand jury, still occupied with other matters.

In Hopewell, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife remained in seclusion. Col. Lindbergh will not be called to testify before the jury when it considers the Curtis case, prosecutor Anthony Hauck said.

Dr. John F. Condon, the Jafie who paid a futile $50,000 ransom for return of the baby, was at Becket, Mass., apparently on a vacation although he said he was still actively engaged in a search for the kidnapers.

Two New Jersey state police arrived in Philadelphia to investigate the activities here of Curtis during his imaginary "negotiations."

Morris Rosner Is Called
The Bronx, N. Y., county grand jury resumed its investigation of the Condon ransom and called as one of its witnesses Morris Rosner, who was appointed by Col. Lindbergh to undertake negotiations with underworld.

Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, who with Rear Admiral Guy Burrage, (retired), was associated in the Curtis activities continued his refusal to come to New Jersey to confront Curtis and "vindicate himself" as was requested by Jersey police.

JAFIE ISSUES APPEAL TO "JOHN"
Becket, Mass., May 24.—(P)—Dr. John F. (Jafie) Condon, Lindbergh ransom negotiator, who came here yesterday with Walter C. Goodwin of the Bronx, N. Y., to the summer shack of the latter, today through a representative of a Springfield newspaper, dictated a message to the mysterious "John" to whom the aged doctor tossed $50,000 of Col. Lindbergh's money in a Bronx cemetery.

The message was dictated after Dr. Condon had been informed that the New Jersey legislature had voted to offer a reward of $25,000 for information leading to the identity of the abductors and killers of the Lindbergh baby.

The message was as follows:
"John: Money I gave you is useless. You can't get rid of it. Return to Col. Lindbergh in time. Get your $25,000 reward. Signed Jafie."

Dr. Condon said in his opinion the offering of the reward was one of the most excellent actions since the child's body was found.

He said he was convinced that "John" would accede to his personal request if he should see it and return the $50,000 in some manner to Col. Lindbergh.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Dusenberry returned this morning to Memphis, after spending the week visiting with relatives and attending the baccalaureate sermon at the College. Miss Elizabeth Edwards, a niece of Mrs. Dusenberry, is a member of the graduating class.

Leave For Texas.
Fred Garten, Charles Stanfield, Vilas Spoor and Donald Hanna left last night for Houston, Tex., where they will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stanfield.

Mrs. Laura Booher will go to St. Joseph this evening where she will join her son, O. F. Booher and family to go to Hiawatha, Kan., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Booher's uncle, John White, who died Sunday evening. Mr. White visited in Maryville last fall.

UNREST AMONG FARMERS.

Witness at Grain Hearing Tells of Condition in Iowa.

Kansas City, May 24.—(P)—A witness told Interstate Commerce Commissioner examiners today that the farmers in Iowa are standing around on street corners talking about "getting out their firearms and cleaning out the state house at Des Moines."

The witness who injected this bit of testimony into grain growers objection to higher freight rates was Oscar Helme of Marcus, Ia., president of the farmers grain dealers association.

In relating what he described as the desperate condition of Iowa farmers, Helme said there was talk about going on to Washington, because "something has to be done."

Federal Officials Investigate Mayor Walker's Tax Returns

New York, May 24.—(P)—Uncle Sam stepped on the stage in the Walker-Seabury drama today as New York's spick and span mayor got ready for his question and answer duel with Samuel Seabury.

Federal officials, it was disclosed, are investigating Mayor James J. Walker's income tax returns as the result of information dug up by Seabury, who has been burrowing into the city administration's record for months.

The federal men, headed by U. S. Attorney George Z. Medalle, began their inquiry after Seabury, counsel for a legislative committee of inquiry, unearthed testimony that J. A. Sisto, taxicab financier, had given the mayor or $26,500 in bonds.

Seabury, placing Walker on the stand tomorrow in the climactic drive of the long investigation, is expected to ask him the reason for this alleged gift from a casual acquaintance.

Other questions to be shot at the mayor were provided in a public session of the inquiry yesterday. Seabury produced testimony to show a definite link between Walker and Russell T. Sherwood, obscure accountant who leaped into prominence when he went on a honeymoon during the earlier stages of the inquiry and never turned up again.

Commencement Exercises Are Held Sunday at St. Benedict's Church.

St. Benedict's school of Clyde came to a close with the annual school picnic last Thursday at the William Untied picnic grounds one mile east of Clyde. Besides the pupils a large crowd of patrons and friends was in attendance.

Friday evening at 8:15 the Junior St. Benedict's high school pupils very successfully presented "The Mystery of Haddon Hall," a three act play, to an appreciable audience. The eighth grade graduates supplied their farewell song during the intermission, while the honor of giving the valedictory fell to Miss Stella Broschiet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Broschiet of Clyde.

The eighth grade graduates were as follows:

Winifred Jeanette Berg, Kathleen Marie Walsh, Cordula Lillian Brockmeyer, Lucille Emma Wilmes, Mildred Lillian Lager, Stella Magdalene Broschiet, Irene Catherine Wilmes, Pauline Rose Billey, Irene Anna Wiederholt, Charles Edward Gittings, Mary Rose Farnan, Robert Norman Sturm.

Those with a perfect attendance during the year were Frances Meyer, Vincent Meyer, Theresa Beckery, Fred Meyer and Mary W. Merrigan.

Commencement exercises were held at St. Benedict's church Sunday. A splendid address, befitting the occasion was delivered by Rev. Stephen Schappler, O. S. B. A. M., former rector of Conception College, the benediction being given by the Rt. Rev. Phillip Ruggie, O. S. B., Abbot of Conception Abbey. Rev. Paul Wetzelsberger, O. S. B., and Fr. Andrew, O. S. B., the pastor, were also present at the exercises.

St. Benedict's school, besides the eighth grades, has also a three year high school course, fully accredited with the Missouri University. The school is taught by the Ven. Recent additions to the high school library were Collier's publications of the History of Nations, in 25 volumes; the complete works of James Whitcomb Riley, in 10 volumes; and Junior Classics in 10 volumes.

St. Benedict's school had over 100 pupils during the past year.

Lamkin Is Named Member of School Finance Survey

The school finance survey committee for the state of Missouri was announced today by William John Cooper, U. S. Commissioner of Education. Includes Uel W. Lamkin of the State Teacher's College. State committees were nominated by State Superintendents and include state legislators and officials, school officials, university professors and other prominent citizens.

Problems of financing the schools have brought demands for information which can throw light on special questions confronting each state. For this reason it has been deemed advisable by the survey's Board of Consultants, authorities in finance, education and research, to invite participation by state "contact" groups.

Leaders selected in each state will be informed of the progress and advance findings of the nation-wide school expenditure study, and will be asked for advice from time to time by the national research staff. Each state committee will meet with Commissioner of Education Cooper, director of the survey, or Paul R. Mort, associate director.

Federal funds for this survey are provided until July. Funds from private auspices will support continuation of the work. It is expected that study on the major project of state aid to schools will be far enough advanced to permit state committees to work with the state legislatures next session.

Houston, Tex., May 24—(AP)—Meeting in perfect harmony on one principle—that of sending Texas' 46 delegate votes to the national convention tied fast to Speaker John N. Garner—the state Democratic convention developed a super-heated factional fight today.

Congressman Sam Rayburn, close personal friend of Garner and described as the speaker's choice for temporary chairman and keynoter, was ascended to the post after bitter turmoil.

State Senator Walter Woodward had told the convention that to repudiate Rayburn, who was the selection of the state executive committee, would be "a slap at John Garner."

C. I. Francis of Wichita Falls was placed in nomination against Rayburn by State Senator W. K. Hopkins, leader of a movement for an anti-prohibition declaration by the convention. Hopkins declared "machine politics" was responsible for the Rayburn selection.

DO YOU INHALE?

A frank discussion at last on a subject that has long been "taboo"

"Let sleeping dogs lie!" So said the cigarette trade when first we raised the subject of inhaling. But dodging an important issue is not Lucky Strike's policy!

Do you inhale? That question is vitally important... for every smoker inhales—knowingly or unknowingly. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette! And the delicate membranes of your throat demand that your smoke be pure, clean—free of certain impurities.

No wonder Lucky Strike dares to raise this vital question! For Luckies bring you the protection you want... because Luckies' famous purifying process removes certain impurities concealed in every tobacco leaf. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

So, whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly, safeguard those delicate membranes!

Browns' Unusual Batting Order Is Proving Valuable

Club Uses Two "Clean-Up" Hitters—Defeats Detroit 7 to 6.

By the Associated Press
The St. Louis Browns, winners of seven of their last eight engagements and a brand new American League menace, are having a jolly time disproving one of baseball's oldest maxims—that a club's batting strength must be concentrated midway of the line-up, and let the bottom end take care of itself.

Bill Killefer, who has ideas of his own, has upset the best traditions by keeping Jim Levey, the club's one and only 341 hitter, in eighth position, just one step above the pitcher. As a result, the Browns present a sort of "double-barreled" threat to opposing hurlers, something novel and apparently effective.

Two Clean-Up Batters.
There are two separate and distinct "clean-up" batters, Goose Goslin, the club's second best hitter, in fourth place and Levey in eighth, each with his own supporting cast. The scheme, designed to sustain a rally once started, has worked like a charm since the Browns caught fire on their recent visit to Washington.

Yesterday they burst loose with five runs in the seventh to come from behind and down Detroit, 7 to 6. Levey made three hits, knocked in a run and scored twice. Goslin's only hit drove in two more. The victory placed the Browns on an even keel for the first time this season, with 18 won and 18 lost, and only a game behind the Tigers and Cleveland who are in a virtual tie for fourth place.

White Sox Win.
The day's other best feature in the American League also was witnessed in the west, where Milt Gaston of the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland, 4 to 0, on two scattered singles. Further monopolizing the honors, Gaston singled in the winning run in the fourth.

Red Ruffing's tight relief pitching in the ninth, when he replaced Phipps with one out and the tying run on third and retired the last two batters, enabled the Yankees to pull out with a 6 to 5 win over the Athletics, breaking the A's winning streak at seven straight. Washington's skidding Senators took a 6 to 2 beating from the Boston Red Sox.

Braves Hold to Lead.
Stubbornly refusing to "crack," despite the exhortations of all and sundry critics, the Boston Braves fought 10 innings to shade Brooklyn, 5 to 4, and climbed back to the National League top. Rabbit Maranville's line single over first scored Worthington with the winning run after two were out in the tenth.

The Giants kept hammering away and finally captured a messy affair from the Phillies, 9 to 7. Three pitchers worked for each side during the see-saw struggle.

With only the two games scheduled, the Chicago Cubs slipped back to second place without a chance to defend themselves.

Jockey Is Killed and Two Injured in Track Accident

Cleveland, May 24.—(P)—One jockey was killed and two others injured when five horses piled up in a struggling mass in yesterday afternoon's third race, a $600 claiming event for four year olds and up, at Bainbridge track.

Charles Pegg, 20, up on Chorister, died in an ambulance. His skull was fractured.

Jose Hernandez, 18, and William Carroll, 20, were in a hospital today, Hernandez with possible internal injuries; Carroll injured internally and in a serious condition.

Tracy Reno, up on Erin Go Bragh, went down in the pile-up, killing his mount. Reno and Lee Hardy, the fifth jockey figuring in the smash, managed to roll out uninjured.

None of the jockeys was able to give a coherent account of what happened, but spectators said the horses piled up when Hernandez' mount, Phi Delta, bore out from the fence and interfered with the field.

Forum Goes Into First Place in Twilight League

The Daily Forum's entry in the kitted ball division of the Twilight baseball league went into first place last night by defeating the Electric Light company's team 6 to 3.

Red Masters, gullible devil of the Printers, knocked a home run in the first inning after two men were out.

The Printers ran up a lead in the second inning which the Electricians couldn't overcome. Barrett, Kessler, Cummings, Wickizer and Panhorst all scored to give the Printers a 6-run lead which the Electricians halved in their time at bat in the second inning. Tillman, Trullinger and Ward scored the three runs for the Electricians but that finished their scoring for the game.

Juniors Clinch Intermural Baseball Title at College

Play in the intermural baseball cage at the College came to a close last night as the Junior-Senior team defeated the Freshman-Sophomore aggregation. Coach Henry Iba said the schedule was discontinued because of the fact final examinations and other activities this week allowed the boys no time for further games.

The Juniors emerged champions of the league, defeating the sophomores for the title. The junior victory was something of an upset, as most observers had picked the strong sophomore team to win handily.

Robbers Wreck 'Phone Exchange, Kidnap Watchman

Lovington, Ill., May 24.—(P)—Five bank robbers early this morning kidnaped the night watchman, Wilbur Redding, wrecked the telephone exchange, forced the cashier of Hardward State Bank to open the safe, and then escaped in a big sedan with the loot, a total of $400 in money.

They forced Redding to direct them to the home of Homer White, cashier. Redding aroused White and the robbers grabbed him. They forced their way into the house and tied Mrs. White with ropes and forced White and his wife into their automobile.

Their next stop was at the telephone company, where the bandits wrecked the switchboard and tied up the operator, and put her in their car. Both women were forced out and into the court house where Boone Dawson, night watchman, was also tied up.

Stopping at a garage they stole a quantity of tools, and with them proceeded to the bank. White was forced to open a small vault and two safes and hand over the money therein.

REFLECTION OF TIMES

The "bonus or bust" army from Portland, Ore., which went through Maryville peacefully last Thursday has struck a snag in St. Louis because one of the railroads refuses to see why it should carry free the 300 men. Meanwhile, the railroad is suffering a loss because several of the cars which were held by the veterans' expedition were refrigerator cars and contained perishable food that the railroad will have to make good. The road would have pulled the extra cars of the bonus expedition at some extra cost but would not have run the chance of letting the perishable foodstuffs spoil on the tracks.

However, the members of the expedition are acting contrary to the established laws of this country and have endangered not only their lives but the lives of others when they uncoupled cars from trains and put on the air brakes when the train was under orders to move.

The B. and O. officials have stood pat on their refusal to move the expedition without remuneration. The demands of the veterans for free transportation hardly seems justified, especially in these times when the railroads are finding it hard to get sufficient transportation.

Yet railroads in the past have carried trainloads of farm floaters through the country on box cars without charge and glad to haul them to get rid of the floaters. Perhaps the proposed haul to Cincinnati of the veterans would have saved the B. & O. lots of trouble and would not have necessitated the calling out of the Illinois national guard.

The converging of an organized group on Washington would be unheard of in normal times, but such moves reflect the condition of the times and are to be expected.

Senator Borah of Idaho states that he will not attend the national convention in June regardless of whether or not congress has adjourned. Senator Borah fails to state his reason or reasons for this rather unusual declaration. The independent, free thinking, outspoken senator evidently feels displeased with the present turn of things, or he simply refuses to have anything to do with the re-nomination of President Hoover. This pre-convention statement on the part of the Idaho senator is rather significant in view of the fact that Borah was extremely instrumental in bringing about both the nomination and election of the incumbent of the White House.

20 Looking Back Twenty Years 20

A few members of the high school class that will be graduated Friday night are accused of painting a big sign on the school building Monday night. The sign contained "Seniors '12" and was painted on the west side and at the top of the building in big letters which could be seen two or three blocks away. Another sign was painted on the sidewalk leading to the main entrance. The board of education met today in Superintendent Hawkins' office to investigate the matter. Unless the sign is washed off the building before evening, the board and faculty will not issue diplomas to any members of the class.

Circuit Clerk Eugene Rathbun returned Tuesday noon from a week's business trip to Woodston, Kan. The first annual alumni banquet and reunion of the graduates of the Northwest Normal will be held at the First M. E. church this evening. President John Rush will preside at the business meeting.

W. B. Cox of Hughes township is a Democratic nominee for representative. A wolf den was discovered last week on the Monastery farm near Clyde. A large wolf was shot and the younger ones are being fed on milk.

You Can't Marry

By Julia Cleft-Addams.

SYNOPSIS: When Georgie Revell Townsend leaves on a business trip with her employer, Gratton Matching, he leaves Jenny to look after Georgie's new husband, Eddie, who has had a nerve breakdown. Georgie has told Matching that Jenny is Eddie's wife in order to keep her job. Jenny secretly loves Garth Aveney.

Chapter 32

A Sound Investment

"Because—" Eddie's voice was gruff as he answered Jenny's question—"she only wants what she wants."

"But I expect she is thinking just that of you," ventured Jenny. "And I'm much the same, Eddie—everybody wants their own kind of happiness."

"Oh, I can't bear you and Georgie to be unhappy."

She looked up at him, troubled by the trouble in his eyes. To her surprise he stooped and kissed her.

"Good kid," he said. "You didn't mind my doing that, did you? I sometimes wish—" He checked himself, primed and for the second time ordered her to run home.

"You look like an ornament of a Christmas tree in that silver frock. Pretty enough to make anyone want to kiss you."

She turned obediently away. The car had disappeared but she had only a little way to walk.

This was the hour she loved, the very edge of the night. Flitting through the heavy shadows between the street lights, her pale skirts gathered out of her and the jade and silver of her hair and shoes gleaming and dulling in turns, she knew that men's heads turned to watch her go.

Even old Gratton Matching had said it—"a pretty thing in all that silver." And in Garth Aveney's eyes she had seen that he was lovely, even though for her well-being he had nothing but a sneer.

She forgot Eddie and the wonder why he should be going back to Mrs. Zigger's alone and with such troubled eyes. Tomorrow she would think about him again and if he and Georgie would let her, she would go on urging him. She felt absolutely certain that she would cure him, in the end.

But tonight she must speak to Georgie and Georgie must answer her—and for once they would be talking about Jenny Revell, grown and lovely woman, and not Georgie's pretty doll.

She passed Gill in the doorway almost without seeing him, and she arrived at the door of the apartment without any recollection of climbing the stairs. It was like going up in a dream. And the quiet of the apartment was dream-like, too.

"Georgie," she called "Here!"

The dream-feeling broke and vanished. Georgie's voice, coming from the living room, was brisk and clear; and Georgie, strolling out into the hall, was perfectly groomed and frocked and waved a cigarette.

"I was just going on the razzle—can't stand this place when I'm alone in it," she smiled. "Come and tell me about it, honey. Heavens, to think of our having dinner with the Old Man, life is, isn't it?"

She propelled Jenny into the living room and immediately turned on the radio. A flood of dance music welled to the room, and Georgie moved in rhythm to it until she cannoned into Jenny and began to giggle.

Jenny quietly turned the set off.

"I think you're afraid, Georgie," she said. She had not meant to say it, but she would stand by it. "You're afraid of being alone because you've sent Eddie away."

"I suppose you met him," shrugged Georgie. "He would only tell you his side of the business, of course. Not that—"

Jenny went to her and took away the cigarette she was trying to light.

"I want you to tell me something," she said. "Not about you or Eddie at all."

"Well?"

"May I tell Garth Aveney that it was you and not I who married Eddie on Saturday?"

Under her detaining hands she felt Georgie start and quiver.

"Jenny, of course you mayn't! What possesses you? Why I should lose my job there and then! Haven't you been told at Rochester Gate that the Old Man is putting him in full charge? Whatever Aveney might want to do, he wouldn't have any choice—he'd have to fire me."

"But I think I must tell him," persisted Jenny.

Georgie wrenched herself free.

"After all I've done for you? Jenny, you simply—you simply can't take my job away from me, Jenny, when it has kept you from starving, and clothed you, and sheltered you! Why, the very frock you've got on—"

"Oh!" cried Jenny, her hands pressed flat against her ears. "Oh, don't! Don't say it, Georgie, it has such an ugly sound!"

For the second time that evening they stared at each other like enemies. There was a bewildered sadness in Jenny's heart and—perhaps—its echo in Georgie's. For presently her face twisted up into a trembling smile.

"Something that isn't me is using my mind and my tongue tonight and its something I loathe as much as you do," she muttered. "I don't mean anything I said and I'd like to take back everything I do. I suppose for once in my life I'm tired right out."

"Yes, you're tired," agreed Jenny all eagerness to forgive. "It was silly of me to start a discussion like this tonight. Selfish. Don't let's go out, darling, let's—let's—"

Georgie said it for her.

"Let's have a cozy evening together, as we used to do. I'll brew some hot chocolate and we'll drink it in our pajamas on my bed." Lightly, she caressed Jenny's cheek. "No, on second thoughts, you'll make the chocolate. You've elected yourself housekeeper, I hear."

"Do you mind? Eddie—that is, I thought—"

"I'm very pleased. I'll pay you the ordinary salary, of course, and you'd better take some lessons and get really good at cooking. It's always a sound investment. And I'll pay for the lessons."

Jenny slipped into the kitchen, smiling a little wryly. What a lot Georgie cared about the money side of everything! Always it was her first comment. Of course, one had to be practical, but it surely was a mistake to emphasize it. Jenny, busy with the chocolate, had a fleeting memory of an old man with so much money that he could never spend it all. Gratton Matching—lonely, suspicious, odd.

She wondered whether she was really expected to go and see him tomorrow. She wanted to go; there was a quality about him that—she could not describe it but it was something she needed. Perhaps it was pure friendship. He liked her and she him; and they were both in need of being liked.

"Are you in love?" Georgie asks Jenny tomorrow, suspiciously. But she must not find out.

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press

San Diego, Calif.—A dust-stained wayfarer has been made welcome by the city, given a bath and a meal while his hosts speculate on how he got so far from home. He was only five miles from the coast when a motorist came upon him but folks at the zoo who know their sea lions say that's a power of overland travel for a member of the family.

Brant Lake, N. Y.—Curiosity, that characteristic frequently mentioned as having caused the demise of a cat, is also proving fatal to members of New York's deer population. A buck and a doe stood in a highway here staring at an approaching auto until it was too late. Down at Coseyman's hollow a doe became cut-of-season venison watching the on-rushing lights of a car.

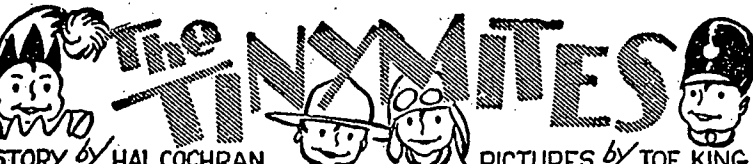

Schenectady, N. Y.—The firemen of the city are developing quite a technique in bathroom rescue, thanks to mischievous youngsters. They had no sooner broken in to bring out Edward Haber, two, who was angling for a celluloid fish in the bath tub than they were called to get the Coronovsky children, Dree, two, and her baby sister who had imprisoned themselves.

New York—Abraham Weiss wants it clearly understood that he did not attempt to end his life. He said he was sitting on a park bench when along came a lodge brother and offered him a drink. It was the stuff in the lodge brother's bottle that led doctors to diagnose it as a case of poisoning, he said.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

THE Scrub-a-dubs were curious. "Why did you come to call on us?" said one of them. "We seldom have nice lads like you drop in."

"Oh, we are glad to meet new friends. Our search for new ones never ends," said Scouty. "Gee, in all parts of the wide world we have been."

"But, come, please tell us more about the things you do. I have no doubt that you are kept real busy in the springtime of the year."

"If you have anything to do right now, we Tinies will join you. We've worked before and can again. We're handy, never fear."

"Well, thank you," said the funny mop, "but we are tired and planned to stop and take a little rest. You see, we need one now and then."

"We all will flop around at ease and take a nice nap, if we please. And then we will be ready to go back to work again."

Another shouted, "If you boys can stand what you may think is noise, we'll sing our little clean-up song. 'Twill tell you everything."

"Hurray!" cried Duncy, "that suits me. We'll listen quite attentively. Please form a quartet right away and let your voices ring."

THE Scrub-a-dubs were glad to do the thing that Duncy asked them to. They promptly started singing and their song was very cute. They sang, "We are the Scrub-a-dubs. Our job is one of scrapes and rubs. Whenever things need cleaning, to this very thing we scout."

"We wash the windows, clean the floors in houses and in great big stores. We send the dust arrounding, so that everything can shine. We always have a lot of fun and, frankly, when our work is done we're always sure that everything we've worked on looks just fine."

MARKETS

Increased Sales Cause Decline in Wheat Quotations

Chicago, May 24.—(P)—Wheat prices dipped today, largely on account of augmented selling incident to more than six cents a bushel advance from last week's low.

Some stop loss orders dislodged as a result of the down swing of the wheat market and numerous eleventh hour buyers let go of their holdings. World's available supplies of wheat showed 6,386,000 bushels decrease for the week, and now totaled 403,994,000 bushels, against 417,069,000 a year ago.

Wheat closed unsteady, 1 1/2c to 1 1/4c under yesterday's finish, corn 1/4c to 1 1/2c down, oats 1/2c to 3/4c off, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents lower.

Wheat market downturns were in the face of assertions in various quarters that rains at this time over the southwest and west would do the crop little if any good, as losses were due largely to freezes which had impaired plant vitality. Larger buying, however, developed on the break in prices, and the market steadied at around 1 1/2c under yesterday's finish. Bulls laid stress on Missouri advices of severe deterioration of wheat prospects in that state, some observers saying that, as a result of Hessian Fly and other handicaps the Missouri crop had gone backward 50 per cent in promise since the growing season began.

Forecasts of unsettled weather tonight, though, promising more moisture over Kansas and Nebraska, were a factor later against material price rallies in wheat.

Corn and oats took their cue from the action of wheat.

Provisions sagged with grains.

Veterans Will Resume Trip East in Motor Trucks

Compromise Is Reached After National Guard Is Called Out.

Freight Train Held Up

"Bonus Brigade" delays thirty Refrigerator Cars 24 Hours—Six Militia Troops Appear on Scene.

Bulletin
East St. Louis, May 24.—(P)—The "Bonus Expedition" of 372 World War veterans, whose seizure of a B. & O. freight train resulted in calling out six national guard companies, started moving eastward at 2 p. m., today in trucks and automobiles obtained by Sheriff Jerome Munie of St. Clair county.

East St. Louis, Ill., May 24.—(P)—After delaying a refrigerator train for 24 hours, and bringing National Guard troops to the scene, 300 World War veterans gained their objective today—another ride on their way to Washington, where they will plead for bonus legislation.

The men, on their way from Portland, Ore., to the national capital, centered their attentions on a refrigerator train of thirty cars at Caseyville, eight miles east of here, when Baltimore & Ohio officials refused to give them transportation eastward.

Clamoring aboard the train, uncoupling cars, and using other means, they succeeded in delaying the train more than a day—until Sheriff Jerome Munie of St. Clair county promised Ind., on motor trucks.

Wait for Trucks.
With that promise the doughboys released the train and peacefully pitched camp to await the arrival of the trucks. Meanwhile national guard troops from six cities arrived here today, and prepared to go to Caseyville if necessary, to preserve order.

The troops, under the command of Lt. Col. Robert Davis, of Carbondale, came from Springfield, Carbondale, Salem, Mt. Vernon, Paris and Cairo. Col. Davis said he understood his men would not be called to Caseyville unless new trouble arose.

A. F. Taylor, of Portland, now in command of the veterans, having succeeded W. W. Waters, who resigned yesterday, said the present expedition was the first of several to be organized on the Pacific Coast to make pleas for cash bonuses in Washington.

Will Leave Today.
"The veterans will leave today, perhaps by noon," Sheriff Munie announced at Belleville, the county seat. "There will be five service trucks and a number of service cars to haul them. The East St. Louis chamber of commerce is paying for it all."

"Also I expect to ask Adjutant General Carlos E. Black to call in his national guards. They aren't needed. There's no trouble with these veterans and no demonstrations. When it looked a little like trouble at Caseyville yesterday, it wasn't the veterans I was concerned about, but the sympathizers. There was a crowd of several thousand along the B. & O. tracks and they were all yelling and cheering for the former soldiers."

W. L. Moody, superintendent of the Illinois highway police, arrived at Caseyville early today with 40 troopers. He was there, he said, to escort the men across the state line and to preserve order on the way.

Boy Scout Executive Addresses Councilors at Meeting Last Night

George Hendrick, assistant chief Boy Scout executive of the Pony Express Council with headquarters in St. Joseph, spoke last night at the Chamber of Commerce offices on the duties of merit badge councilors. About twenty-five merit badge examiners were present. Mr. Hendrick explained the duties of examiners have been expanded so that the councilors now act in an advisory capacity as well as merely giving the tests for merit badges.

There are more than 100 merit badges which can be won by Boy Scouts, most of which are in the vocational field. However, there are some recreational merit badges, and with the combination of the recreational and vocational badges, Boy Scouts are given a splendid opportunity to not only choose their life's vocation but to find out what hobby interests them the most, Mr. Hendrick explained.

Mr. Hendrick explained that after the councilor had signed the examiner's certificate questions were asked by the Scout executives as to the ability of the Scouts in that particular field.

He asked the councilors to take more interest in Scouting than the mere giving of tests and urged them to attend Scout meetings and on occasions when asked to prepare illustrated talks on each one's vocation.

Won't Continue Inquiry

St. Joseph Detective Refuses to Return to Maysville.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 24.—(P)—Chief of Detectives John T. Duncan today refused to return to an investigation into the death of Edward Franklin West, seven years old, found hanging late last Friday on his father's farm near Maysville, Mo., the St. Joseph police today were asked by Sheriff Vern Campbell of DeKalb county to take up the case again.

"We are glad to help from here but cannot go into DeKalb county," Chief Duncan said. "We were there at your invitation and our presence was requested by Edward Robinson, assistant attorney general of Missouri. I declare that the suicide of that seven-year-old boy was impossible, physically impossible. He was murdered and I regret exceedingly our department cannot help you solve the crime."

The coroner's jury failed to give an opinion between suicide or murder after officers failed to call the father of the lad, Otis West, who found the body, and who does not believe the boy committed suicide.

Explosion Kills Man and Wrecks Two Buildings

Cause of Terrific Blast in Butler, Mo., Is Not Determined.

Damage Set at $50,000

Charred Body of Victim Is Found in Rear of Store by Firemen Fighting Flames After Detonation

Butler, Mo., May 24.—(P)—Two buildings were destroyed, two were partly wrecked and an unidentified man was killed by a terrific explosion here this morning which rocked the west side of the court house square.

The charred body of the victim was found in the rear of a grocery store by firemen who battled flames which followed the blast. He apparently had been trapped by a falling wall.

Authorities expressed belief the victim was responsible for the explosion which caused his death. Officials were investigating to determine whether any of the business men whose buildings were damaged had received threats from bombers.

Preliminary investigation failed to reveal the type of explosive used. The damage to a racket store, two grocery stores and the Western Service Corporation, the utility company for Butler was estimated at $50,000.

Export Debenture Plan Is Rooted in Path of Tax Bill

Washington, May 24.—(P)—That hardy perennial—the export debenture plan—was firmly rooted today in the path of the billion dollar tax bill through the Senate.

Akin to the tariff itself, it sprang out of the controversy that attended approval of the four import taxes carried by the bill—oil, coal, lumber and copper.

Senator Norris, veteran Nebraskan independent, argued at length for its approval as an aid for the farmers. It was uncertain whether a vote could be reached this afternoon or whether to tack it on to the tax bill.

The tariff coalition, swept onward last night to give approval to the lumber and copper import taxes after decisively defeating the move for general tariff revision. Previously duties on oil and coal had been retained.

Future Farmers Will Compete in National Contest

Maryville Chapter Will Also Take Part in State Ton Litter Competition.

Maryville's chapter of the Future Farmers of America decided at the first summer meeting at the school building last night to enter the national chapter contest, and also the state ton litter contest, according to Lloyd Gutting, vocational agricultural teacher of the high school. The local chapter has the record of producing more ton litters than any of the 144 chapters in the state.

The national chapter contest offers prizes totaling $1,000, Mr. Gutting said. The first project tour of the F. F. A. will be held on June 27. Members of the club have 328 hogs and twenty-seven calves on feed and also have included in their projects, corn, oats, soybeans, alfalfa, potatoes, poultry, dairying and sheep. The boys discussed plans to send a car of show stock to the state fair at Sedalia in August.

Entries Listed
The entries of the F. F. A. members in the ton litter contest, the breed of hogs, and the number in the litters, are:
Russell Dowell, Poland Chinas, nine in litter.
Douglas Dempsey, Cross breeds, 10 in litter.
Robert Burris, Hampshires, 10 in litter.
Fred Espey, Durocs, 10 in litter.

Convict Escapes Prison Gang by Hiding in Auto

Trusty Is Found in Rumble Seat of Wife's Car By Boonville Officer.

Woman Faces Charges

Unidentified Man Who Assisted Her in Escape Plot Will Also Be Tried For Aiding Prisoner

Jefferson City, May 24.—(P)—An escape attempt by Sam Tyler, short term trusty inmate of the Missouri prison from Clay county, was frustrated last night with the arrest of his wife and an unidentified man at Boonville, prison officials announced today.

Tyler, secreted in the rumble seat of the automobile in which the two people were riding was held for prison guards, who returned him to a prison cell.

Warden Leslie Rudolph said that Tyler admitted to him today that he and his wife had planned the escape when she visited him at the prison recently. He said he was picked up by his wife and the man shortly after working hours last night. He had been assigned to help clean up a state owned park here with a group of convicts and slipped into the car while he was not being watched, he told the warden.

Overtakes Fugitives
When guards discovered that Tyler was gone, law enforcement officers between here and Kansas City were notified to watch for the car which it was known his wife was driving.

They were captured just as they were about to leave Boonville, the warden said he was notified.

Tyler is under two year sentence for grand larceny from Dec. 21, 1931. The woman, arrested at Boonville gave her name as Thelma Tyler, Kansas City. The two people under arrest will be charged with aiding a prisoner to escape, Warden Rudolph said.

Overtakes Fugitives
While L. W. Baglow, the officer who made the arrests, was talking to Rudolph over the telephone, he saw a car passing answering the description given him, and immediately gave chase, discovering the convict concealed in the rumble seat.

Charges of aiding a prisoner of the state penitentiary to escape were filed against Tyler's wife and "John Doe" in circuit court here today. Tyler was charged with attempted escape.

Prince of Wales Talks "Shop" With Amelia Earhart

London, May 24.—(P)—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam paid a visit to the Prince of Wales at historic St. James' Palace this afternoon at the Prince's invitation.

This was a signal honor for the slim and serene young flier who landed near Londonberry, Ireland, last Saturday and thus became the first woman ever to conquer the Atlantic by airplane without the help of a man in the pilot seat.

She arrived at the royal residence at 3:15 and was ushered immediately into the presence of the heir to the throne. After the audience she went back to the American embassy, where she is staying, and had tea with a number of British women who know how to run an airplane.

Mrs. Putnam was expected to remain at the palace for half an hour. Her welcome was such, however, that she actually was there for three-quarters of an hour.

The prince came out to the motor car with her as she left.

"I don't feel I should say too much about my audience with the Prince of Wales, but I found him just as I expected, charming and delightful," Mrs. Putnam said.

"We talked 'shop'—that is, we did a little ground flying.

"He congratulated me warmly on my flight from Newfoundland and I told him my story of the flight. We exchanged several of our flying experiences."

Drastic Cut in State Bureaus Is Urged by Becker

Candidate For Nomination For Governor Speaks Here Last Night.

Economy in government was the theme of the address here last night by Charles U. Becker, secretary of state and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. The meeting, which was under the auspices of the Lincoln club, was held in the circuit court room of the courthouse.

Mr. Becker dealt with several aspects of the economic condition prevailing in the country, and advocated readjustment of the tax burden to relieve the farmer and place a just share of the load on the earning capacity of wealth. This, he suggested, could be done by legislation making notes, mortgages, and bonds invalid unless taxes were paid upon them.

Too Many Bureaus.
The speaker declared that the State of Missouri was supporting 150 boards and bureaus which absorb a large part of the state revenues.

"This," he said, "is a serious condition. These boards must be reduced or abolished altogether."

Mr. Becker has little sympathy for the proposal to concentrate power in the hands of the governor, declaring that elective officers should handle the affairs of the state and be responsible to the electorate for their conduct. That he said, is the traditional American method, the method which includes a balanced division of power.

"I am for party government," the speaker continued. "There is too much of this non-partisan stuff now. The state officers should be accountable to the voters."

See Growing Interest.
After touching on unemployment and other problems which will confront the next session of the legislature, Mr. Becker made a plea for a more active interest in politics. "Only 52 per cent of the voters in the state now go to the polls," he said. "There is decidedly not too much politics. On the contrary the crying need is for a real, strong party government." Mr. Becker, who is making a tour of the state, said he observed a growing interest in politics everywhere.

The speaker concluded his address with an appeal for the party to stand squarely behind President Hoover, who, he said, had been "fled about and abused" by the newspapers.

L. L. Livengood, president of the Lincoln club, was chairman of the meeting. He announced that Judge D. D. Reeves would address the club the night of May 31.

Youth Falls 75 Feet Down Shaft of a Coal Mine

Accident Occurs Near Burlington Junction This Morning.

Is Expected to Recover

Charley Loft Is Taken to Hospital Here Suffering From Broken Foot And Other Injuries.

Falling seventy-five feet to rock bottom in a coal shaft near Burlington Junction is the experience which Charley Loft, age 19, may live to tell to posterity.

Still conscious when he was picked up by M. E. Howard, Loft was rushed to the St. Francis hospital here before noon where an examination revealed the youth had suffered a broken right foot, a dislocated right shoulder, a gash over his right eye and possibly spine injuries. Physicians had not completed the examination early this afternoon to determine the extent of the injuries to Loft's back.

The accident occurred after 10 o'clock this morning on the Ova Bradley farm, about a mile and a half northwest of Burlington Junction. Loft who has been working for J. H. Howard, coal miner of Clarinda, Ia., is the son of Mrs. Wilbur Clark of Clarinda. His father is thought to be in Arkansas. Loft has been working with Howard for over a year.

Loses His Balance.
The men who were sinking a shaft on the Bradley farm in an effort to locate coal, had been blasting, and Loft was getting into the elevator to go to the bottom after a blast. He had thrown his tools in the bucket elevator which is lowered and lifted by a rope attached to a gasoline engine, and stepped into the elevator. In some manner he lost his balance and toppled over backward.

Loft threw out his arms in an attempt to catch hold of a rod over the shaft, but couldn't hold on.

J. H. Howard and his cousin, M. E. Howard, saw Loft turn over several times while falling down the 5 by 9 foot shaft. M. E. Howard said that Loft had landed with his right foot underneath him. The bucket was immediately lowered with M. E. Howard in it and Loft was brought to the surface and an ambulance called from Maryville.

J. H. Howard said there had been no coal mined in the vicinity of the Bradley farm for approximately forty years. He said that the shaft, which is now down from 75 to 80 feet, is just on top of a coal vein.

Farm Board Flour Is Half Gone, Red Cross Worker Says

Half of the 40,000,000 bushels of wheat allocated from the Farm Board's holdings to the American Red Cross for distribution to the needy already has been requisitioned, Miss Gertrude Thompson, field representative of the St. Louis branch office, told the Nodaway county executive board. She said that in her contacts with Red Cross chapters she has found an urgent need for the flour made from the Farm Board wheat.

The requisition of Nodaway county for approximately 13,000 pounds was moderate, Miss Thompson thought, and said another requisition from this county undoubtedly would be approved.

In addition to explaining the distribution of the flour, Miss Thompson talked on the various services rendered by the Red Cross and urged an early appeal in the Roll Call next fall.

Bill to Guarantee Bank Deposits Is Taken Up by House

Washington, May 24.—(P)—Designed to protect depositors and to place safeguards around banks, the Steagall Guaranty Fund bill was submitted for House action today by the Democratic leadership.

Setting up an initial fund of $300,000,000 to be derived entirely from earnings of the Federal Reserve banks, the legislation provides for resources reaching approximately $2,000,000,000 to insure the safety of the financial institutions for the public welfare.

In filling the unanimous report of the banking committee on the measure, chairman Steagall said it "is intended to encourage the organization of banks by making investment in banking capital more attractive, to provide stricter methods of examination, better management and protection to depositors."

Citing that during the past ten years, 7,800 banks, with deposits totaling $2,500,000,000 had failed, the Alabama Democrat said:

"Loss of confidence is the major factor in this unhappy development. The removal of this fear is the first indispensable step toward business recovery in the United States."

The bill would create a federal liquidating board composed of the treasury secretary, the comptroller general and three presidential appointees, not connected with the Federal Reserve system in any way, to supervise the guarantee fund.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bohanan of St. Louis and Mrs. Alvin Clark of Kansas City are in Maryville visiting friends and relatives.
